

Angelic: Downtown Los Angeles

grand launch event offers a taste of pussy & pooch

by Rich Alossi on January 25, 2008

Every once in a while, something is dropped into our inbox that we just can't resist.

This Thursday, January 31st, is the grand launch party for the West Coast's leading extreme pet boutique, Pussy & Pooch, located at 6th and Main in the Santa Fe Lofts.

The launch includes a Pet Fashion Show and Charity Raffle for "hip Hollywood trendsetting pets and their people." Expect LA City officials, celebrities and "industry tastemakers."

Really?

If you're like me and find all this extreme pet pampering silly — I don't even give myself "blueberry facials" — you may still find something for little Bear, GoGo or Fifi.

Pussy & Pooch offers a range of pet goods and services like single-serve, doggie-bag pet dinners to-go; a pet bathhouse; raw meals at the Pawbar; and pet furniture.

For more information, please contact Pussy & Pooch.

-more than just a pet store, it's a "pussy experience"

