Calling All Downtown Pets & Owners

Visitors and residents of Downtown Los Angeles must add this place to their must see list. On the corner of Main and 6th is an appealing space not just for the four legged breeds. Pussy and Pooch is an urban oasis for any pet and owner. The space not only houses a boutique of unique products geared toward your modern and very pampered pet, but also a "Paw Bar" and a "Bathhouse," which is a self-serve dog wash that provides everything necessary for bathing your own kitty cat or pooch.

Even those without pets, must stop by just to see the Paw Bar. It is simply the cutest thing ever to hit L.A. It has custom seating for up to three dogs, and offers a selection of raw meat meals, simmered stews and meaty bones prepared fresh daily, in addition to gourmet treats and snacks. You can even grab a doggie-bag pet dinner to-go. Outdoor patio seating is also available for snacks and meals or after-dinner lounging.

Don't miss the monthly PAWS on the PATIO from 12-3 p.m.

Together with Bark Avenue Foundation, Pussy & Pooch presents a monthly Pet Adoption Day where you will be able to add to your family by adopting a dog, puppy, cat or kitten. Be sure to visit their Web site and sign up for the Pussy & Pooch newsletter. Once you do, you will be updated on upcoming PAWS on the Patio dates, as well as other exclusive Pussy & Pooch events and products.

Let's support this great addition to the much improved Downtown L.A. scene. Be sure to stop by Pussy & Pooch at 564 South Main Street. Opened Tuesday-Sunday, closed on Mondays.
