Hype embossed leather collars designed by Veuch and Kappachan

January 30, 2008

Those cool kids over at Kappachan have done it again! Teaming up with Brussels-based underground artist Veuch they have taken a unique approach to the classic skull and bones icon. These collars are constructed of fine grade saddle leather embossed with Veuch's electrified Skull with crossed swords. Available in Large and Extra Large - shorties need not apply - these designs are available in a warm cognac brown leather and a matte black leather. Currently they are available to purchase online directly from Kappachan in France and if you want to save on the International shipping they are slated to be carried at LA's latest pet super boutique Pussy & Pooch.
